Cost Factors in a Data Breach

Change in US$ From Average Total Cost of $3.86 Million

Five Cybersecurity Principles Every Board Director Needs to Know

- Understand and Approach Cybersecurity as an Enterprise-wide Risk Management Issue. Not Just an IT Issue.
- Understand the Legal Implications of Cyber Risks as They Relate to the Company's Specific Circumstances.
- Have Adequate Access to Cybersecurity Expertise and Give Cyber Risk Management Regular and Adequate Time on Board Meeting Agendas.
- Set the Expectation That Management Will Establish an Enterprise-wide Risk Management Framework. With Adequate Staffing and Budget.
- Management Discussions Should Include Identification and Quantification of Financial Exposure to Cyber Risks and Which Risks to Accept, Mitigate, or Transfer (e.g., Through Insurance), as well as Specific Plans Associated with Each Approach.

Top 10 Questions the Board Should Ask to Assess Third-Party Risk

PRESENTED BY:

Jennifer L. Urban Angela Johnson

Top Ten Questions the Board Should Ask to Assess Third-Party Risk

- 1. Who Are Our Organization's Critical Vendors/Third-Party Partners?
 - Who are we most dependent upon to stay up and running?
 - Who has access to large amounts of data or system-wide access to our infrastructure?
- 2. What Is Our Organization's Internal Process for Approving and Terminating Third-Parties?
 - Do we have a Third Party Management (TPM) Program?
 - How do we conduct screening for vendor selection/due diligence?
 - Who approves? IT, legal, business owner or a committee?
 - Beyond Onboarding: How do we conduct ongoing due diligence?
- 3. Does Our Organization Have a Contingency Plan or Transition Services Available for Critical Vendors/Third-Parties?
- 4. How Does Our Organization Manage Cloud v. On-Premise Vendors?

Top Ten Questions the Board Should Ask to Assess Third-Party Risk

5. For Critical Vendors/Third-Parties: Do We Have Insight Into Their Incident Response Process? Do We Have A Contact For Incident Response Coordination?
6. What Third-Parties Are Critical to Our Organization's Business Continuity/Disaster Recovery Plan?
7. Does Our Insurance Cover Vendor/Third Party Breaches?
8. Are There Functions/Operations Our Organization Should Consider Outsourcing Instead of Keeping Risk In-House?
 - Lift and Shift: Are we taking on unnecessary internal risk? Are there processes we are doing in-house that we could outsource to shift that risk to third-parties?
9. How Does Fourth Party Risk Get Assessed?
 - Are there prohibitions on subcontracting/assignment or other pass through requirements?
10. How Does our TPM Program Correlate With Our Internal Enterprise-wide Risk Management Program?

Board Considerations in Sourcing to the Cloud

PRESENTED BY:

Michael R. Overly, Esq.

Yusuf Cassim, Esq.

Common Misconceptions

- Commodity pricing and services are always less than locally installed solutions
- Easier to budget
 - Confusing pricing metrics and hidden costs
- There is safety in numbers
- Cloud providers are the experts

Case Study – Cloud Desktop

Common Failure Points

- Failure to align expectations
- Vendor – Customer
- Within Customer’s own organization
- “Contract float” – not only is data in the cloud, but also key contract terms
- No transition-out plan, no fall-back
- Loss of institutional knowledge

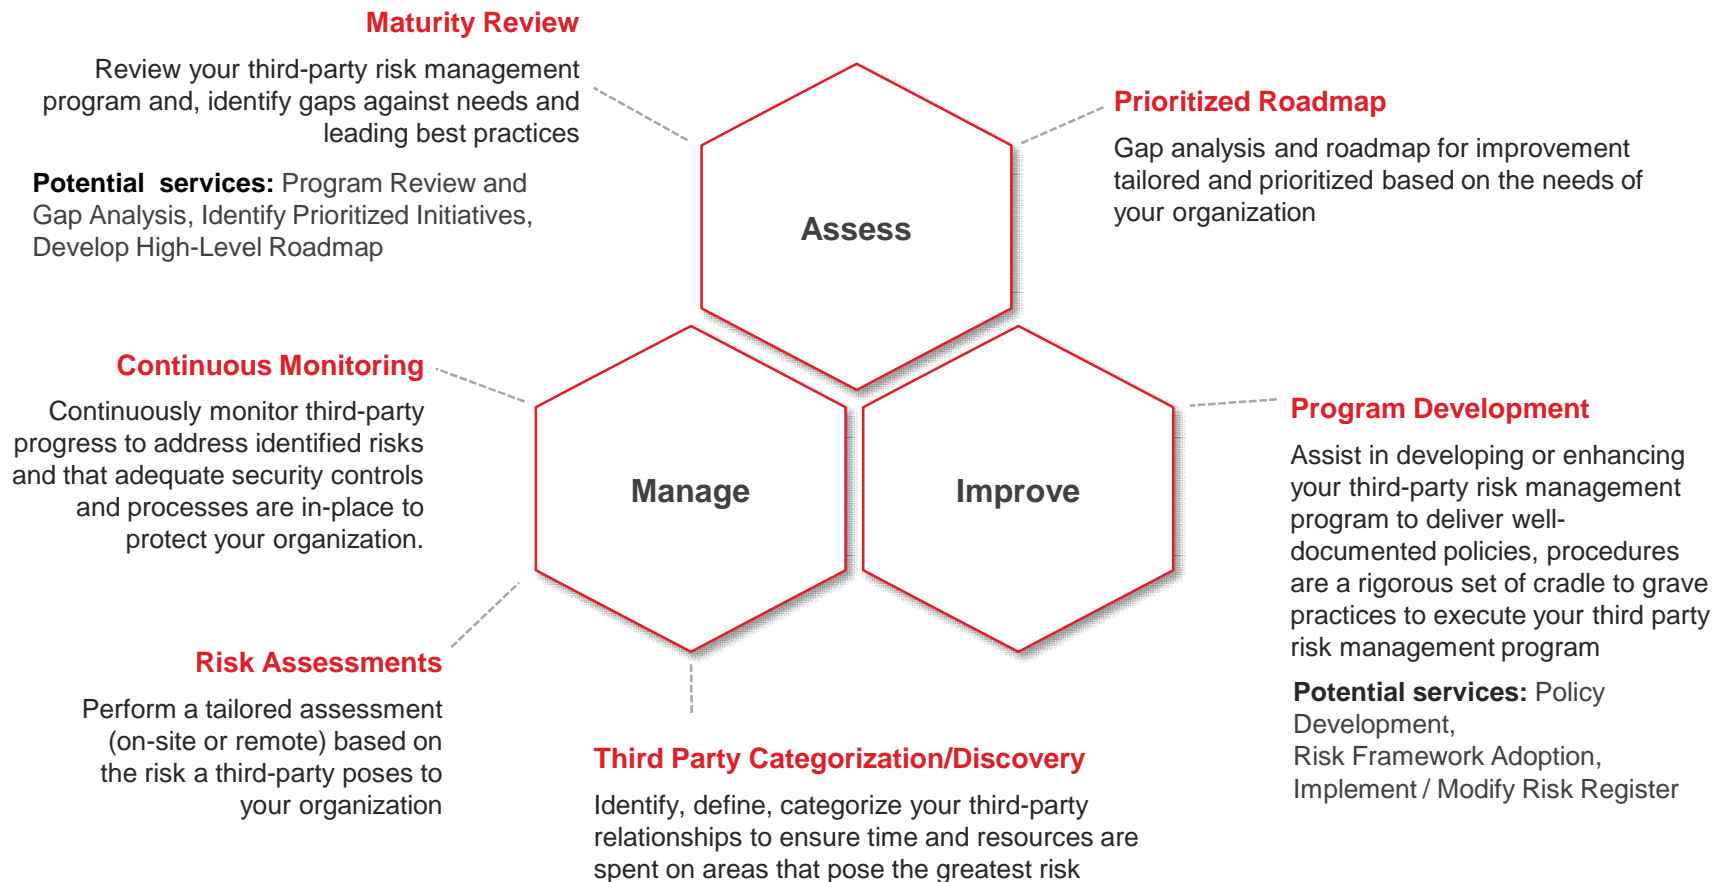

Common Failure Points

- Liability and performance
- The dawn of the as-is technology agreement
- Data held hostage
- Regulatory issues
