Monica Busse works in our Business Law Department and is a part of our Transactions Practice Group.

Monica attended Northwestern Pritzker School of Law where she was articles editor of the Northwestern Journal of International Law and Business and a student mediator for the Center for Conflict Resolution through Northwestern's Mediation Practicum. During law school, Monica was twice a summer associate at Foley where she drafted memorandums on escheatment guidance and changes to Wisconsin business entity laws. Prior to that, Monica worked in corporate finance, participating in a 24-month rotational program as a financial leadership associate at a publicly traded multinational corporation.
