

Ayah Housini

Associate

ahousini@foley.com

Dallas

214.999.3259

Ayah Housini is a litigation associate and a member of the Labor & Employment Practice Group. Ayah represents clients in all aspects of labor and employment matters, including pre-litigation administrative charges, pleadings, motion practice, and discovery. She also has experience litigating pro bono matters, including first-chair hearing appearances. Ayah is based in the firm's Dallas office.

During her time in law school, Ayah served as Managing Editor of Publication for the Texas International Law Journal and Chair of Texas Law's Board of Advocates. She was also a summer associate with the firm in 2022.

Prior to joining the firm, Ayah interned with the United States District Court for the Southern District of Texas and the U.S. Senate.

Community Involvement

- Dallas Bar Association, Member
- Dallas Women Lawyers Association, Member
- Dallas Association of Young Lawyers, Member
- Dallas-Fort Worth Muslim Bar Association, Member

Presentations and Publications

- Author, "Rooted in Change: Texas Enacts the CROWN Act," JD Supra (January 17, 2024)
- Author, "Bump in the Road: Federal Judge Selectively Halts Enforcement of the Pregnant Workers Fairness Act in Texas," JD Supra (April 16, 2024)

FOLEY & LARDNER LLP

- Author, “Redefining Workplace Safety: OSHA’s Updated Hazard Communication Rule Explained,” JD Supra (September 10, 2024)

Practice Areas

- Labor & Employment
- Litigation

Education

- The University of Texas School of Law (JD, 2023)
 - Chair, Board of Advocates
 - Managing Editor of Publication, Texas International Law Journal
 - Recipient, 2022 Editorial Board Excellence Award
 - Recipient, 2023 Editorial Board Excellence Award
- The University of Texas at Dallas (BA, cum laude, 2017)

Admissions

- Texas