Laura Mikeworth is dedicated to helping her clients effectively navigate a broad range of complex construction, hospitality and real estate matters. As a member of the firm's Construction Practice, Laura represents clients on strategic deal structuring and construction contract formation. She drafts and negotiates construction contracts, subcontracts, consultant agreements, design agreements, design-build agreements, construction management agreements, and other project related documents. She has experience with a variety of construction-related forms, including AIA, EJCDC, and DBIA.

As a member of Foley's Real Estate Practice, Laura represents real estate developers, investors, owners, and tenants in a variety of complex real estate matters, including acquisitions and sales, development, financing, and leasing. As part of the firm's Hospitality & Leisure industry group, Laura represents companies that develop, own, and operate hotels and resorts. She also has significant experience on real estate aspects of wind, solar, energy storage, and other energy projects, including working on site control documents, title, survey, and other development, permitting, and financing matters.
