Roland Potts is a partner and Chair of the International Arbitration Team. He is based in the Miami office where he is a member of the Business Litigation & Dispute Practice Group. Roland has an extensive background in litigation, arbitration, and appellate matters. He has advised foreign and domestic clients across multiple industries, including construction, technology, telecommunications, energy, entertainment, agriculture, real estate, and hospitality, to name a few. Roland has counseled dozens of international clients in business and partnership dispute claims.

He routinely advises multinational clients in international legal disputes and arbitral matters ranging from intellectual property disputes to breach of contract claims, anti-competitive claims, construction defects, product liability claims, expropriation, and more. A bi-lingual attorney, Roland is able to litigate and arbitrate claims in English and Spanish seamlessly, with extensive experience in international arbitration, including investor-state arbitrations. Roland has arbitrated claims before a myriad of arbitral forums, including the ICDR, JAMS, ICC, SMA, LCIA, CeCAP, and ICSID.

A large portion of Roland's international arbitration expertise and experience is focused in Latin America. Based out of Miami, he has handled arbitral proceedings arising out of disputes in Mexico, Panama, Honduras, Ecuador, Venezuela, and Canada, among others. He has also advised clients on corporate structuring as it relates to investor-state treaty protections.

Roland has an excellent reputation in the community, has been named a top lawyer by South Florida Legal Guide, recognized in international arbitration by The Legal 500 Latin America, and was a South Florida Business & Wealth Legal Awards honoree in international law. He was selected by his peers for inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America® in the field of Litigation. He also co-authored the Latin America-Wide Trends and Development section in the 2019 Chambers Global Practice Guide for International Arbitration. Roland regularly attends and speaks at international arbitration conferences, particularly those with a Latin American focus.

Working across borders, Roland Pott's disputes practice is primarily focused on the resolution of cross-border disputes through international litigation and arbitration, in multiple instances taking matters through to a favorable final judgment or award. As a fluent Spanish speaker capable of presenting argument before tribunals in English and Spanish, Roland primarily advises multinational entities in Latin America or parties engaged with Latin America. As a consequence of his expertise and ability to provide fully bilingual counsel, clients come to him with their most sensitive matters to effectively advise on strategy and analysis to achieve favorable results. Having represented clients before all major arbitral forums, Roland's understanding of institution rules, market trends, and familiarity with arbitrators allows him to work with in-house and local counsel to guide clients through every stage of the arbitration process, from pre-arbitration litigation to post-award enforcement proceedings. In addition to commercial arbitration, Roland has represented clients in investment arbitrations, helping both interpret the nuances and precedents set by bilateral investment treaties and other free trade agreements. He has also worked on behalf of these same clients in U.S.-based litigation, assisting them in navigating the U.S. legal system and representing their interests before the courts. He has a thorough understanding of disputes in the energy, technology, and manufacturing sectors and has served as counsel of record on numerous construction litigation matters and arbitrations for major infrastructure projects. Roland routinely serves as a speaker on topics related to the practice of international arbitration and has been recognized as a leading lawyer in the field of international arbitration by The Legal 500.
