Sam Zarov is a litigation associate in Foley's Denver office. As a summer associate at a Wisconsin law firm, Sam gained experience across a broad range of legal matters in corporate litigation and condemnation. Prior to graduating law school, Sam worked as a mental health litigation intern for the Committee for Public Counsel Services in Boston, Massachusetts.

Sam graduated from the Boston University School of Law, where he found success in numerous moot court competitions and served as a Note Development Editor on BU's International Law Journal. He was also the Vice President of BU's Jewish Law Students Association. Sam received his undergraduate degree in history from Brandeis University.
